Oakington Chapel farewell service – today

The final service takes place at Oakington Methodist Chapel this evening at 6.30pm. It will be led by Revd. Chris White (Circuit Superintendent minister) and Revd. Dr. Peter Graves. There will be a collection for charity, and refreshments will be served afterwards. All are welcome to help celebrate the achievements of the past with thanksgiving.

“A faith to live by” at Haslingfield Methodist Church

The first in this Connexional year’s programme takes place this evening at 6.30pm, and will be led by John Hardwick – last Sunday morning’s preacher at Castle Street. The evening is entitled “Passing on the baton – reaching the next generation”, and will take on the usual format – a short time of worship, address, refreshments and discussion. All are welcome.

In a relay race if one runner decides not to bother then the race is over for that team of runners. In a similar way, we as Christians have a responsibility to “pass on the baton” and tell the next generation about God’s love for them. King David said in Psalm 71: 18 (NIV) “Even when I am old and grey, do not forsake me, my God, till I declare your power to the next generation, your mighty acts to all who are to come.” “Telling the Next Generation” has been John Hardwick’s mission for more than twenty-five years. He juggles and sings and tells stories for the King!

Not only is he involved in many different outreach activities himself but in the early 1990s he led the Saltmine Children’s team, then he trained a children’s team in Lebanon, he is also the co-founder of the GenR8 school teams that reach around 40,000 children in Cambridge and further afield. He writes resources books which have not only been used in churches across the UK but have been translated and used in other lands. He also produces CDs and DVDs of songs and stories.

Castle View – volunteer needed for next month

We need a volunteer to help out with layout for next month’s Castle View. Templates and instructions will be provided – all you need is access to Word or Open Office, plus two to three hours of spare time just after next weekend. Please speak to Anna or Matt Williams if you can help.

Food Safety course

Haslingfield and Harlton Luncheon Club is organising a Food Safety Level 2 Course on Saturday 8th November from 10am (enrolment and refreshments from 9.30am) to 4pm at Haslingfield Methodist Church. It is being run primarily for its own cooks, but there are fifty places available so it is opening it up to other charities and churches. The cost is only £20 (it's normally £50!), but it is being led by someone qualified and very experienced who ran one there about five years ago.

Bookings must be received by 4th October – contact Christine Kipping (grahamkipping at aol dot com).

Reminders of some important events coming up (details in Castle View)

- Open meeting to discuss renewing our Mission Statement – Thursday 25th September at 7.30pm.
